TRY OUT WITH BURLEY CUBS

(Hobertson Advance)
Dr. P. M. Duncan, Tom Asbury,
Charles Raymond and Roger Bramel were Mayville visitors Sunday.
Tom and Charles went down in answer to a call from President Thomas Russell of the Mayville club, who had promised them a try out with the team.
Tom is one of the best pitchers in several counties around, last year playing with Kenton town team and not losing a game. He has speed, control and curves and a cool head and we would be glad for him to get a "stay" with the team. Charlie is a good ball player and is especially strong when it comes to batting. He is to be given a try out in the field and here's hoping he also makes good.

Several from here attended the Decoration Day services at Manchester Tuesday among them being Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bryant of East Second street and Mr. George Harding of Forest avenue.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Of St. Patrick's School Delightfully Entertained Tuesday Afternoon
At Home of Mr. and Mrs.
F. P. O'Donnell

The last of a series of delightful social entertainments to the students of the Music Department of the St. Patrick Schools tendered by patrons during the past season, was the Garden Party given to the entire student body of that department Tuesday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. O'Donnell, Forest Avenue. The spacious lawn hung with Oriental lanterns throwing their soft glow on the merry makers, presented a fairly like scene; whilst within, were such decorations as appeal to the child mind, with flowers in wild profusion, without color scheme—a real "war of the roses," added to the festive atmosphere of the night occasion.
Every girl and boy quickly attended to the joys of the evening, not alone by the heartiness of the welcome all were made to feel, but more particularly by the absence of conventionality. No Miss Blank, decollete, with long silk gloves, was in the receiving line, but real-blooded boys with boxing mits gave each other the "happy hand," preliminary to an exhilarating boxing bout, whilst light hearted girls looked on, shouting with glee at the novelty of the sight. Other girls tripped gaily over the lawn or danced merrily in parlor or on porches to the strains of irresistible music, the product of the guests themselves. Others entered with zest the games provided, or enjoyed the restful old-fashioned swing.
The guest of honor, loved and car-ressed by girl and boy alike, John Francis' pony, who gaily caparisoned with garlands and ribbons, bridled and saddled, accompanied by his never failing friend, Rover, the coach dog, entered among the guests, leading himself to their pleasure, carrying them at will, adding no little to the joys of the evening. The conventional punch bowl was absent. Instead, there was the punch bag, surrounded by jolly many boys, displaying a process which if more prevalent among the youth of the land, there would be less need for the call for "preparedness."
Nor must it be supposed that these boys are neglectful of the cultural side of life. Each entered the premises, like his sisters, with a roll of music
under his arm or with a violin strapped over his shoulder, determined to furnish his share of the musical features of the evening, and well did they and their sisters acquit themselves, beyond the reckoning of the hostess.
The choicest victrola records had been selected for the evening—Calve, Caruso McCormick, Paderewski, Kreisler, Klmann, and other musical high brows. But to the back seats were they relegated in the presence of these creators of real music, these musicians in the flesh, the guests of the evening.
What chance had the cold records of McCormick or Lauder against Willie Gantley singing his wistful "Granny and Me" or Paderewski, when the Misses Cloney, Willett, Purdon, Ep-penstinner, Elthine O'Donnell, and other brilliant musicians rendering such, no shadowy, but moving, soulful music. Even the lionized Kreisler and Klmann and their insouciance before the violinists of the evening, particularly Misses Malone and Telle.
Even the ensemble numbers of Arthur Prior with his famed orchestra were shelved in the presence of the Cecilian orchestra, composed of some of the guests. Not until refreshments were announced and the guests were seated on the lawns did they yield to poor Calve, Kreisler, and Company, (twice laughter and applause did the heroes of the victrola have their inning. Elaborate favors consisted of penny balloons, their shrill cries punctuating
the music of the victrola.
So fleeted the merry hours, during which the worries of final examinations were forgotten, and a bright memory was woven into the sweet promising lives of childhood.

MORE CONVERSIONS

Yeveff Meeting Drawing to a Close.

The sermon topic in the yeveff meetings last night was "Prepare To Meet Thy God." These words of the prophet were applied to the people of today. Evangelist Yeveff was at his best and drove home in his own way the conclusions of his logic. At the conclusion four more persons took a public stand for Christ. The Evangelist said he had been told that many who were attending these services had decided to unite with the different churches in the city. The effect of these meetings is community wide. All churches are profiting by them.
Evangelist Yeveff preaches as if he were conducting a union meeting.
Therefore some of the members of the various city churches entered unhesitatingly into active interest in this religious campaign.
The best of the sermons will be given tonight. Mr. Yeveff who sang so effectively last night will sing again tonight.

THE PRICE OF FOLLY

The world is paying the price of its folly today, and the price is exceedingly large, it is appallingly great.

Over in Serbia the folly of a half witted dupe of unscrupulous plotters resulted in the assassination of a worthless archduke. That shot, conceived in hatred and executed in the blindness of folly, has plunged half the world into the bloodiest and most gigantic war of all history. It is devastating the fairest spots of Europe, making millions of widows and orphans, prostituting humanity, and transforming a land of peace and happiness into the mire of misery and degradation. Paying the price of folly!

Mexico had a ruler in the person of General Porfirio Diaz. He was a man of blood and iron, whose simple word was a law unto it, self, but he ruled wisely and well, or as much so as could be expected of any man in that illiterate country. His country was prosperous and laws were reasonably enforced. But folly crept in Francisco Madero headed a successful revolution. The old warrior president fled to Spain and death, Madero was proclaimed president, and was promptly deposed and murdered by the minions of his chief general, Huerta. Carranza and Villa joined forces for the overthrow of Huerta, but the United States practically forced the Indian dictator to forsake his bloodstained laurels and flee the country. Carranza became the ruler and Villa promptly turned his guns against his erst while friend. Now Carranza is about at the end of his rope, with defeat and assassination as his probable reward. Mexican soil is soaked with blood, and the ground is strewn with the bones of its fallen sons. Had Diaz been left in peace the country would have continued to prosper and develop and grow, whereas today it is burden with the ashes of decay. Paying the price of folly!

While the warring factions were operating in northern Mexico outrages upon American citizens in that region became so frequent and the situation became so serious that President Taft sent our tiny army to the border as a warning to all evil doers. He committed the error of stopping the forces at the border, and the warning went unheeded. Conditions became worse, and the heritage of our timidity is the contempt with which Mexicans view everything American. Mr. Wilson became president and failed to alter the mistaken policy of his predecessor. Anti-American demonstrations continued, outrages upon our citizens became more frequent, and eventually culminated in an American expedition being landed at Vera Cruz. A salute to the American flag was demanded of the Mexicans—and was never given. The American troops were soon withdrawn without accomplishing any results other than to increase the contempt of the Mexicans for the American people and the American army. Villa's hordes raided across the border and shot up Columbus, New Mexico. General Pershing was dispatched across the border with orders to "get Villa dead or alive." It was the first same order the day Taft sent the troops to the border and committed the folly of stopping them there. But Pershing was hamstrung with diplomatic red tape and official timidity and his expedition is a failure.

Now other ruds have occurred, our citizens have been murdered and kidnapped, Munston has demanded 50,000 National Guard troops and he receives the troops of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, about 4,000 in number. Had Taft sent his troops right on across the border, supported by the 129,000 National Guardsmen, and followed by levies of volunteers, Mexico would have come to her senses in short order, for nothing impresses him as much as promptness and firmness. But the timidity and procrastination of two presidents has caused them to view us a bunch of cowards who are beneath their contempt, until now nothing will ever restore order along our border but intervention and a long and bloody war of pacification and occupation.

The price of folly is great, but the penalty of timidity and procrastination is even greater. And we are paying both.

We've noticed, however, that the average five pound bass weighs about 16 ounces.

Peace is in sight again, the only trouble being that we can't get hold of it.

THICE IS URGED BY LEWIS

Washington—A resolution requesting the President, unless incompatible with the public interest, to suggest to the warring nations of Europe that the United States undertake mediation, was introduced in the Senate by Senator Lewis, of Illinois.

The resolution would authorize the President to propose that the belligerents declare a truce and that each of them select a neutral country as its representative on a board of arbitration thus created. Each selected neutral would name one member of the board, over which the President or his representative would preside as referee.

Under the plan each belligerent would present its demands or claims to the board, which would be authorized to arrive at an equitable adjustment.

The resolution recites that it is suggested as an expression of the desire for world-peace and not of favoritism for any of the belligerents.

President Wilson told callers that the intervention of a neutral in behalf of peace could rest only on a mutual understanding by the belligerents that terms to be arranged are to conserve the interests of all and of the world at large, rather than those of a particular nation or group of nations among the warring Powers.

Wilson did not disclose any definite plan of action he may have formulated in regard to peace, nor authorize a formal statement of his attitude. His callers gained an impression, however, that the President would entertain suggestions that he extend his good offices to the belligerents to bring about peace only when the conditions he outlined were likely of fulfillment.

VILLA IN NEW ORLEANS
DECLARES NICHANAGUEN

Cleveland, May 29.—There is a man in Cleveland the son of an exiled president of a Central American republic who makes the following statement: "Pancho Villa is hiding in New Orleans, La., guarded by detectives who are paid out of a fund of $500,000 he got from Germany. A gigantic revolution financed by Germany and equipped with America munitions will burst out in Nicaragua on June 10th.

Carl Alfonso Zelaya says so. He is the son of Jose Santos Zelaya president of Nicaragua from 1893 to 1909 and an international storm center and now an exile in Barcelona, Spain. Young Zelaya is in vaudeville as a pianist. He is a former West Pointer and one time secretary of the Nicaraguan legation.

STANLEY COMMENDS
MOONLIGHT SCHOOLS

Frankfort, Ky.—The work of the Moonlight Schools in stamping out illiteracy in the State was commended in an address by Governor Stanley recently at the closing exercises of the Deshon school. During the course of his remarks he emphasized the value of education, saying there was nothing in life to be pitied more than a great, strong man who could not read or write.

Governor Stanley said he had taken a great interest in the moonlight school movement and those persons endeavoring to wipe illiteracy from the State.

Other speakers were V. O. Gilbert, Superintendent of Public Instruction; Judge Ernest Clark, of the Court of Appeals, and Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, chairman of the Literacy Commission.

TIMES OPPOSE PEACE

London.—The Times discussing recent reports that President Wilson was preparing the way for American mediation in the war, declares that mediation of this character cannot be entertained because, as the editorial phrases it, "a compromise between right and wrong is impossible, and the war, as a matter of principle, must be fought until Germany is beaten."

Experience one buys is sometimes worth the cost.

The best way to get a living is to earn it.

EDICTS OF MEXICAN REGIME

Washington, May 30.—On the eve of the receipt of General Carranza's new note, which officials believe will renew the demand for withdrawal of American troops from Mexico, and with another conference between American military commanders about to begin a protest was received at the White House today reporting all operators at Tampico and the Mexican authorities.

The protest came in the form of a telegram addressed to President Wilson by 84 American citizens residing at Tampico, who had held a mass meeting and determined to lay their case before the Government.

They declared the Mexican military officials were promulgating decrees designed to make it impossible for Americans to do business in the country and told how one of their number had been arrested and imprisoned for three hours because he refused to pay his employees wages fixed by the authorities in excess of terms previously agreed upon with the men.

The signers of the message asserted their right to protection from the American Government, and announced their determination not to comply with arbitrary and confiscatory orders and decrees by the Mexicans.

White House officials sent the protest to the State Department for investigation. Other complaints already have been received regarding the recent decrees by the Carranza Government, and it is probable that there will be representations on the subject just as soon as the controversy over the presence of American troops in Mexico is adjusted.

SEVEN NEW METHODIST BISHOPS CONSECRATED

Saratoga Springs, N. Y.—Seven new bishops and two missionary bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church were consecrated this afternoon at an impressive service which was almost the last important business of the twenty-sixth general conference before final adjournment. All of the board of bishops participated in the service which was conducted under ritual provided for such occasions. The bishops consecrated and the stations to which they have been assigned were: Herbert Welch, Seoul, Korea; Thomas Nicholson, Chicago; Adna Wright Leonard, San Francisco; Matthew S. Simpson Hughes, Portland, Ore.; William Fitzjames Olliam, Buenos Aires; Charles Bayard Mitchell, St. Paul, Minn.; Franklin Hamilton, Pittsburgh.

The missionary bishops were Eben Samuel Johnson, Africa, and Alexander Prestley Camphor, the only negro chosen to be episcopacy this session, Liberia, Africa.

The conference is characterized by the delegates as one of the most important ever held principally because of the plan adopted which, it is believed to the unification Methodist Church within four years and perhaps by 1918.

When the conference adjourns it will be to meet at the call of the bishops thus giving opportunity for another session of the conference two years hence if it is believed advisable. The plan for unification will then be presented to the Southern church by representatives of both churches who are to arrange the details in the meantime.

Both Warren Worth Bailey of Pennsylvania, and Oscar Calloway of Texas, Democratic members of Congress opposed to the President's preparedness plans, continue to pour hot shot into the administration program. Representative Bailey recently stated publicly that: "Militarism always has been the death-warrant of freedom in the history of nations. I do not believe the people of this country are yet ready to sign the death-warrant." Congressman Calloway pays his respects to President Wilson by saying: "Too President should so fill his office that when election time comes round again, he can be reelected without any war scares."

The pessimist insists on turning his sugar-coated pills wrong side out, so that he may taste the bitter instead of the sweet.

SIR HERBERT TREE SAYS SHAKESPEARE WOULD WRITE FOR THE MOVIES

In the Juno Woman's Home Companion in an interesting interview with Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, the great actor and manager (now playing in New York City).

"Shakespeare has proved a good film scenario writer," he says. "One would almost think he had prepared the plot of 'Macbeth' with the screen in mind. All the wealth of detail—even minute directions—demanded for the motion picture story are already there at hand. So we have tried to produce the play as he might have done if he had come back long enough to direct the performance for the camera's eye.

"This is not presumptuous. Shakespeare himself used every device of his own day to make his work effective upon the stage. Why, you know, it was the shooting off of a real cannon in one of his productions that set fire to the famous Globe Theatre in London and resulted in the destruction of his manuscripts. Can you not see his associates remonstrating about the needless waste of realistic detail?

"There is no reason to believe that Shakespeare would not be just as alert and eager to adopt the dramatic possibilities of the motion picture if he were here in person."

Sometimes it is the police that teach a man to reform.

RECORD OF THE PAST

No Stronger Evidence Can Be Had In Maysville

Look well to their record. What they have done many times in years gone by is the best guarantee of future results. Anyone with a bad back; any reader suffering from urinary troubles, from kidney ills, should find comforting words in the following statement.

Mrs. John Burns, Maysville, says: "I was subject to severe spells of backache and kidney trouble. They came on every three or six months and at times I was confined to bed and almost helpless. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me quick benefit. Since then when I have noticed slight return attacks of backache, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to quickly check the trouble."

OVER SEVEN YEARS LATER Mrs. Burns said: "The statement I gave before praising Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. I know that this medicine acts as represented."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Burns has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE SOLILOQUY OF A SUFFRAGETTE.

(With all due apologies to W. Shakespeare.)

To vote or not to vote, that is the question.
Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer
The slings and arrows of outrageous laws
Or to take up arms against base politics,
And by opposing them—to fight to rest.
No more. And by a fight to say we end
The struggle, and the thousand unjust acts
Our sex is heir to; 'tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wished. To vote, to rule
To rule—perchance to graft—aye there's the rub
For in that sweep of power what harm may come
When we have thrown off this spell of home
Must give us pause. There's the fear
Of public life, the tempter's power,
The enra of State, the "Antia" contumely
The pangs of a vanquished party and our defeat
The insolence of men—and the mirth
That this new privilege will create
When in our homes we might as much obtain
By woman's influence? Who would worries lose?
To fret and wrangle under a public life—
But that the thought; our due as human beings
That knowledge of our own intelligence
Which we have proved—drives us on
And makes us rather take up newer cares
Than sit at home and be imposed upon.
Thus courage doth inspire and help us all.
And thus the native timidity of us poor women
Is covered over with the stern blue of resolution
And enterprises of great pitch and moment
With this in view, are what we will achieve
When once our rights are granted.

SINGLE HEARTED SOLDIERS

The following address was made by

Rev. H. B. Willotte at the Memorial Services at Beechwood Park Sunday:

We meet this Lord's afternoon preceding Memorial Day to worship God as we give honor to our noble dead; we meet to learn the lessons of honor and duty which the day teaches. In the chapter from which my text is taken we have five muster-rolls from the archives of the Hebrew people. Several lists are accompanied by marginal notes which are most illuminative and add much to the value of these national rolls. Fortunately we have such lists of our own civil war, and these memoirs of our immortal soldiers have shed much light upon our professional histories.

It is wonderful that fifty thousand men could keep rank, not only during parade, but amid the disorder of battle. It is the height of military honor to say that soldiers could repel a charge or win an assault with unbroken line; but the cardinal lesson here is the secret of bravery that is born of honor, and inspired by principle. David's soldiers were "true of heart" or double hearted; they did not have one heart for self and another for David. They had ONE heart for David, for country, for God. Under the control of an overmastering purpose, they forgot everything but the honor of God and the salvation of their country. Surely we can say no less for the loyal heroes of our inevitable conflict. Double-hearted men are fatal failures always, while whole-hearted service is the constant wearer of the crown of victory.

Lincoln like David, when a national crisis arose, found "single hearted soldiers," whose uniformity of step and invincible courage saved our union to its present prosperity. Pity and patriotism are akin and the man who loves God most sacredly will serve his country most loyally. Bravery for truth will inspire bravery for flag and country. I trust that these battle tried heroes are as devoted to God as they are deserving of military glory.

It is right that these memories should be revived and the lessons of war reviewed. The day will never arrive when our nation shall cease to honor her true defenders. And would that I had words and wisdom to pay a worthy tribute to the uncrowned queens, the wonderful women of the civil strife days. Even more heroic than the men they suffered willingly. In the quiet of their homes, without the stimulus of the exciting battlefield. Without music to encourage or man to protect, they worked, they prayed, they suffered; the battle's roar by day nor the fearful silence of night could militate their marvelous devotion to Christ and country.

History smiles thru her tears as she tells the story of her heroes, and as we read let us give honor to these men of valor. Who has a better right to be proud of their forefathers than we? Who can boast of a more costly flag? To whom was there half so rich a heritage of liberty? These men were "unmovable, unchangeable and always abounding in courage," so as we look at them let us notice that they were of One Heart in War, in Peace and with God.

Single Hearted in War
"War is Hell" is the cry of armies and nations as of an individual. Seen in sin, fertilized with greed and watered with ever flowing hatred its harvest in lingering pain, suffering, murder, death, and devastation; while vir debits and mental weakness are its chief legacy to the unborn generations. But despite its horrors, war has had its place in history. Many times in the past have armies proven in the outpour of defense, warding off barbaric vandals from the peaceful home and workshop. Thus we conclude that some wars are inevitable and thus was our war of 1861. Its necessity was written in the whole history of the Republic and colonies—even in the history of England for centuries past. It permeated the atmosphere, it saturated the soil it formed the basis from the flagstaff of the first African slave ship. The eloquence of Kentucky and the statesmanship of Virginia could stay it but a season—it was inevitable!

It is useless to raise the question of who was right. Perhaps both were right, but surely the Imperialist is right at least say that one was right according to documentary argument, while the other was in harmony with the necessary changing conditions in our national life. Suffice it to say that both sides displayed courage that is born only of honor and conviction. Man to man it was a draw, but "When the fullness of time was come" Divine intervention turned the tide for the best. Yes, God alone could decide for there were single hearted soldiers on both sides. We are arrested to the admiration of Southern courage. About their unfortunate cause they drew the mantle of a splendid patriotism. Who can question the honesty of such devotion? Who can doubt the motives of that magnificent Southerner, that gallant hero with heart as tender as a child, whose as bold as a lion and devotion unmeasurable—that valiant soldier—the prince of generals, Robert E. Lee? Before the memory of that great man, malice is stricken dumb, while friend and foe alike bow to do him reverence.

Single Hearted in Peace
The aftermath was worse than the evil. When the spirit of discord burned in the heart of a proud people, it is seldom extinguished without the cold waters of death; and we, who are living to enjoy the blessings of our strong, harmonious nationality and peace kissed unity, owe a large debt of gratitude to these soldiers, wonderful from both sides. Where in history can we find a parallel? Think! They came from the jaws of bloody conflict, and without malice—disbanded, scattered—became the chief exponents of peace and fraternity.

When Lee surrendered at Appomattox, the Union was not half saved. Factionalism, the deadliest foe to national unity, cast its darkening shadow over the land. Yes, the aftermath was more than the war itself. But despite the terrors of the reconstruction, there were many Great Hearts who worked, prayed and lived to heal the scars.

General Grant set the key note for the greatest political reunion in history, when he returned the conquered sword to General Lee and bade the Southern soldiers to keep their animals and draw the plow. This noble act later shined as a sun in the darkened sky of reconstruction and twenty years later the weaponless hands, of his former foes, bore his body to the married tomb upon the Hudson. There old enemies clasped hands and mingled tears. Thank God the Angels of our better natures, thru His grace, commercial prosperity, a common outside foe, and religion have been able to heal the wounds and soften the hardness caused by the war, until we stand today, God blessed, God prospered, the Single Hearted Soldiers of Peace.

History is His story; it is the handwriting of God, and men are the instruments with which he writes. As we read its golden pages we learn that it was the "Hand of God in History," which guided the persecuted pilgrims to their heaven of peace and there rocked their infant nation in the cradle of Religious Liberty, and then through love gave them strength to stand alone. Our life and our prosperity are thoroughly dependent upon God. At Valley Forge He kneels a praying Washington; in terror's hour He helps a thinking Lincoln and consoles a praying Lee. A people so absolutely dependent on God should truly have a peculiar Singleness of Heart for Him. Well may we pray, "Lord God of hosts, be with us yet, lest we forget, lest we forget."

And now, in the name of Him, who has married the Northern Lily to the Southern rose, and brought us from a Single Hearted War to this beautiful Single Hearted Peace, and indissoluble Union—with tenderness and affection, I appeal to you, veterans, to serve your God in peace as loyally as you did in war; to you, sons and daughters of veterans, that you strive to be worthy of your noble sires; to you, children of God, that you serve well your Father and your land. Number yourself with those, who, like the soldiers of David, can keep rank, those who had one heart for truth, patriotism, purity and godliness. And may God grant that when you are all mustered out from the ranks of earthly heroes and heroines you shall be crowned with immortal glory in heaven as good soldiers of the cross, who thru Jesus Christ become Single Hearted For God.

PRESIDENT OF CHINA IS POISONED

Tokyo, May 30.—Reports to the Tokyo Asahi from Peking state that the condition of Yuan Shi Kai, President of the Chinese Republic, is grave. He was taken ill Tuesday and cannot speak. It is suspected he has been poisoned.

For many months Yuan Shi Kai has been the storm center of political trouble in the far Eastern republic. During this time he has made bitter enemies, and his country has been torn with revolutions and unrest.

Yuan was inaugurated first President of the Chinese republic October 11, 1913, after acting for several months as Provisional President. His election came after centuries of Manchu rule. He was to serve a five-year term.

In August of 1914 talk of re-establishing a monarchy began. There was much opposition to this move at first, but in December the Council of State voted 2,443 to 1,993 in favor of the monarchy. Yuan Shi Kai was invited to be the Emperor. At first he declined to accept, but finally under pressure from political leaders acquiesced to the desires of the Council on condition that he remain President until a convenient time for the coronation.

Because of vigorous protests from Japan, Great Britain and expression of displeasure by other Powers' Yuan postponed the coronation indefinitely. New Year's Day Yuan sat on the throne, but he has never been officially crowned Emperor.

Soon after the Council voted for a return to the monarchy a serious rebellion broke out in the southern provinces of the country. It spread rapidly and many of the republic troops joined the rebels. Quiet was partially restored, but political out-breaks have continued since.

EASTERN LEADERS

New York, May 30.—Republican President-makers from New York and New England start en masse for Chicago this week.

Chairman George von L. Meyer, of the Roosevelt Republican National Committee, will be at the convention city by Wednesday. He will be accompanied by Vice Chairman Robert C. Morris, Secretary Cosby, former Senators Agnew, Newcome and Wainwright and others of the group which began the campaign for Roosevelt delegates with the Republican caucus.

Chairman George W. Perkins, of the Progressive National Executive Committee, goes Tuesday. So will State Chairman W. A. Brown, Winbridge Colby, William Hamilton Childs and many other Bull Moose leaders.

W. Murday Crane, who is depended upon to deliver the New England delegates against Roosevelt, is due in Chicago soon. He will probably confer with State Chairman Tanner and other anti-Roosevelt New York leaders before the departure.

While Governor Whitman is riding the west part of the state jacking up Hughes delegates, Tanner is to work the Hudson Valley and center tier. They will probably reach Chicago by Saturday and Sunday. The rank and file of the Republican and Progressive delegates will begin their trips Saturday and Sunday.

William Barnes, Jr., has been dashing about New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey the past few days. His mission has been to line up every possible delegate against Roosevelt.

Barnes has seen Senator Penrose in Pennsylvania and Franklin Murphy in New Jersey and satisfied himself that he will have their co-operation in preventing the threatened stampede to the Colonel. Barnes is working for Root first and Hughes second.

The victory of the Republicans in the election in the Second Congressional District in West Virginia, last week, has caused great elation among members of the U. O. P. and corresponding depression among the Democrats.

In 1914 that District elected Brown, Democrat, over Bowers, Republican, but Brown having died, his seat in the Lower House of Congress has been filled by the election of Bowers, by a slim majority over his Democratic opponent.

AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING

Woman Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbus, Ohio.—"I had almost given up. I had been sick for six years with female troubles and nervousness. I had a pain in my right side and could not eat anything without hurting my stomach. I could not drink cold water at all nor eat any kind of raw fruit, nor fresh meat nor chicken. From 178 pounds I went to 118 and would get so weak at times that I fell over. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and ten days later I could eat and it did not hurt my stomach. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel like a new woman. I now weigh 127 pounds so you can see what it has done for me already. My husband says he knows your medicine has saved my life."

Mrs. J. S. Barlow, 1624 South 4th St., Columbus, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains just the virtues of roots and herbs needed to restore health and strength to the weakened organs of the body. That is why Mrs. Barlow, a chronic invalid, recovered so completely.

It pays for women suffering from any female ailments to insist upon having Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

THE FEAST OF WEEKS

Jewish Holiday To Be Celebrated on June 7.

The Jewish Pentecost or Feast of Weeks (Shewoth) will be celebrated on the 7th of June. Its name is derived from the fact that it is celebrated seven weeks after the second day of Passover. All the biblical injunctions as to the manner in which the Feast was to be observed indicate that it was originally agricultural in character. It was in reality a season of thanksgiving for the harvests that had been reaped, beginning with the barley harvest during the Passover to the wheat harvest at the beginning of the summer. The ceremonial offerings prescribed were in keeping with the God-given gifts of the soil that had been gathered.

In post-biblical times this Feast was observed as the anniversary of the birth of Judaism with the promulgation of the divine Law at Sinai. On this "Day of the Giving of the Law," as it was called by the rabbis, the Ten Commandments constitute part of the Scripture readings in the Synagog. It is this historical aspect of the Feast that has been emphasized in the non-agricultural life, which the Jews were compelled to live for centuries.

When the Reform Synagog introduced the rite of Confirmation for the Jewish youth, the Pentecost, by virtue of its traditional association with the ancient revelation, was the day most naturally selected for charging the young boys and girls through an impressive public ceremony, with the meaning of the Jewish faith and with the duty of leading a high and religious and moral life.

The agricultural side of the Feast, however, was not lost sight of, in that it was customary to decorate home and synagog with plants and flowers in season. In addition to a portion from the Pentateuch, the charming story of Ruth was prescribed in the Synagog because the idyllic scene of harvesting which it contains was in keeping with the celebration of the Harvest Feast. Those observing customs that originated in post-biblical times add a second day to that enjoined in the Bible.

I RAKED HAY

I am a boy of 11. I raked hay all through last season. When it was over I had $5.00. I heard about other people putting money in the bank, so I thought I would put mine in the bank. I am keeping my money in the bank, because I know where it is.

We want the boy who makes hay while the sun shines! Sun won't always shine. Rainy Days come. Bring or send $1.00 here to start your Rainy Day Fund. We want the Boy who makes hay while the sun shines!
